R-6: Personal Success and Citizenship	In compliance	Not in compliance	In compliance	Not in compliance
Each student will demonstrate characteristics and values that contribute to personal and societal success.	*

Interpretation: I interpret this policy to mean...

All schools will have comprehensive programs teaching character development and citizenship to help students gain lifelong skills to make them better members of society at large.

Evidence of Status of Compliance:

We are in full compliance of this policy as demonstrated below.

The District's schools, students, and staff have had many accomplishments during the last year related to the characteristics and values that contribute to citizenship and personal student success. They include:

Mock Trial – Horry County middle and high schools compete each year in Mock Trial at both the regional and state levels.

We The People – We the People materials are utilized to support teaching of foundational principles of American democracy and of the Constitution.

After-School Ethics and Leadership Academy (ASEA) – This program is offered for sixth-grade students in Horry County Schools. The Jackson Family Center for Ethics and Values at Coastal Carolina University hosts this program. Students are provided an opportunity to learn about the importance of character and leadership skills. Activities led by Jackson Scholars include group discussion and encourage students to ask questions, make connections, illustrate their thoughts, and share opinions. This was the first exposure to college life for many of the students participating.

Leadership Initiative – Having been in place for over six years in the Myrtle Beach Area Cluster, this initiative encourages students to grow in their self-confidence while developing responsibility, creativity, and problem-solving and communication skills.
