Background Information:

The St. James Area New Intermediate School Ad-Hoc Naming Committee was formed in accordance with district policy. The St. James Area New Intermediate School Ad-Hoc Naming Committee has considered the name for the new intermediate school in the St. James cluster. The Committee has recommended the following name for the school:

Mascots and colors were also considered for the new intermediate school in the St. James cluster. The Committee has recommended unanimously that the new school adopt the same colors as St. James High School.

The Committee is still discussing the mascot, but would like to go forward with approval of the name and colors so that various construction items can be ordered. The mascot will be brought back at a later date.
